As a means of producing the best Shiloh Shepherds we can for generations to come, health testing is extremely important to the future of our breeding program. Regal Shilohs expects every puppy buyer to agree to perform a set criteria of health tests once your dog reaches two years of age. This stipulation stands regardless if a dog is sold as a pet or as show/breeding quality, and is a standard practice for all reputable breeders.

Do you agree to comply with the required health testing once your dog has reached the age of two?
